The Aurora reflects the moods of North Greenville and the individual through . . .

ABILITIES

North Greenville takes pride in the accomplishments of her students as each student is encouraged to develop his individual talents to their full capacities and to perform before his fellow students and faculty.

UPPERCLASSMEN

Dignity, admiration, humor, and even fear are some of the many and varied moods of upperclassmen.

REVERENCE

Reverence for God is expressed in prayer, in song, in communication, in attitude, in sincerity, as the student grows in the awareness of his responsibilities to his Heavenly Father and to his fellowmen.

OPTIMISM

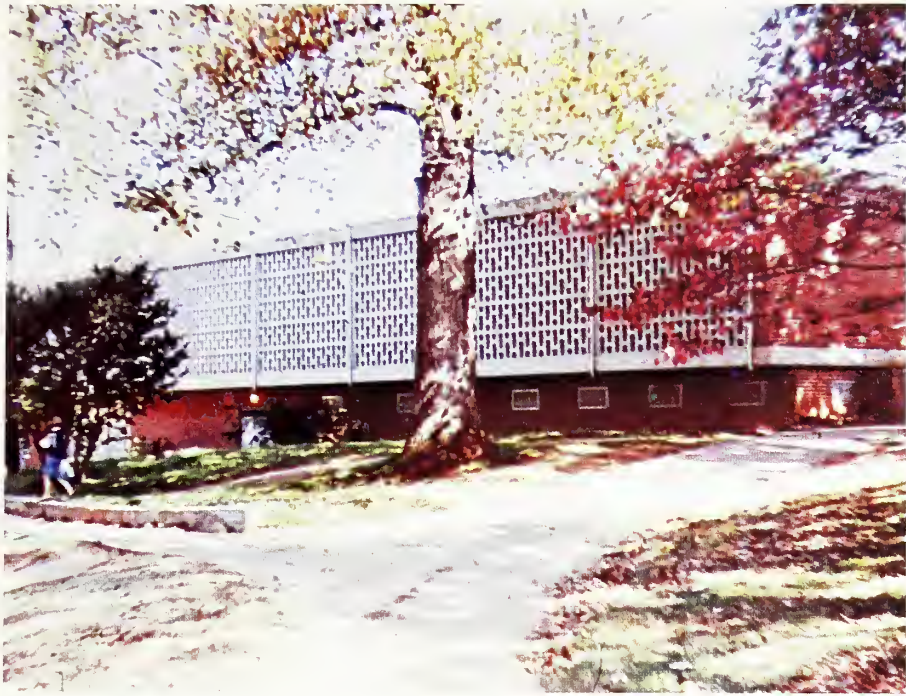

Throughout the years at North Greenville, we have tried to make the most of enjoyments and packed away the troubles.

RELAXATION

To many, it is relaxing just to stroll on the North Greenville campus and behold God's majesty.

APPRECIATION

Seldom do we take time to appreciate the rich inheritance that we have received in the very founding of a college stressing academic excellence in a Christian environment.

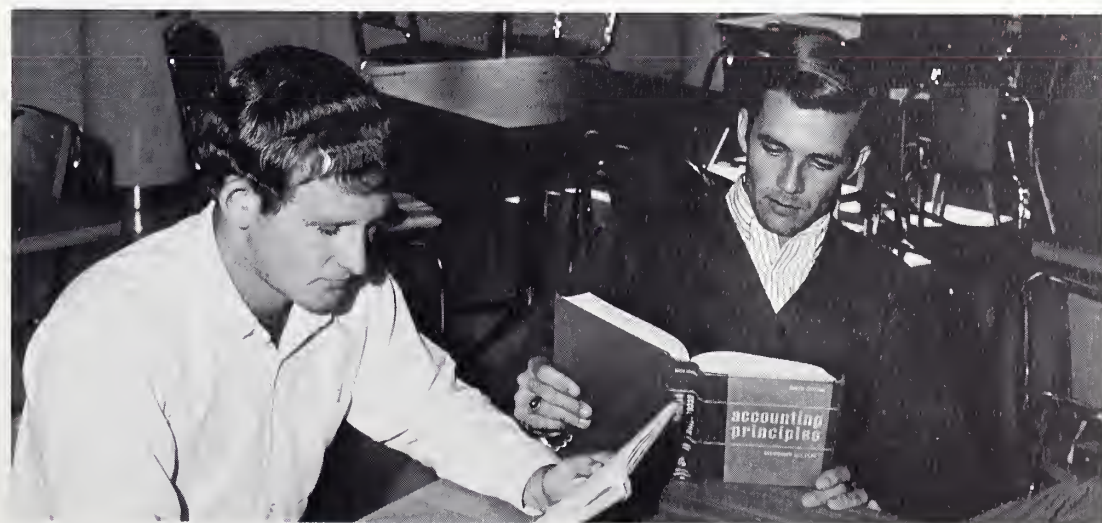

ABILITIES

The English novelist George Eliot once said, "There is a great deal of unmapped country within us." At North Greenville, however, the Aurora views the many abilities demonstrated through generous gifts from alumni and friends of the school, through the students' tedious work in the laboratories, in the learning that takes place in the classroom, and in the selection of the varied courses from the college curriculum.

North Greenville takes pride in the accomplishment of her students as each student is encouraged to develop his individual talents to their full capacities and to perform before his fellow students and faculty.

UPPERCLASSMEN

Dignity, admiration, humor, and even fear are some of the many and varied moods of upperclassmen. North Greenville students will always remember that frightened feeling as Freshmen, the get-acquainted parties, the talent shows, the registration procedure, the difficult tests, the pageants, the sports events, the trips to Glassy, Baldy, and Poinsett Bridge, the holidays, the dates, honors, the weekends, the Student Center meetings, the research papers, spring fever, and especially graduation.

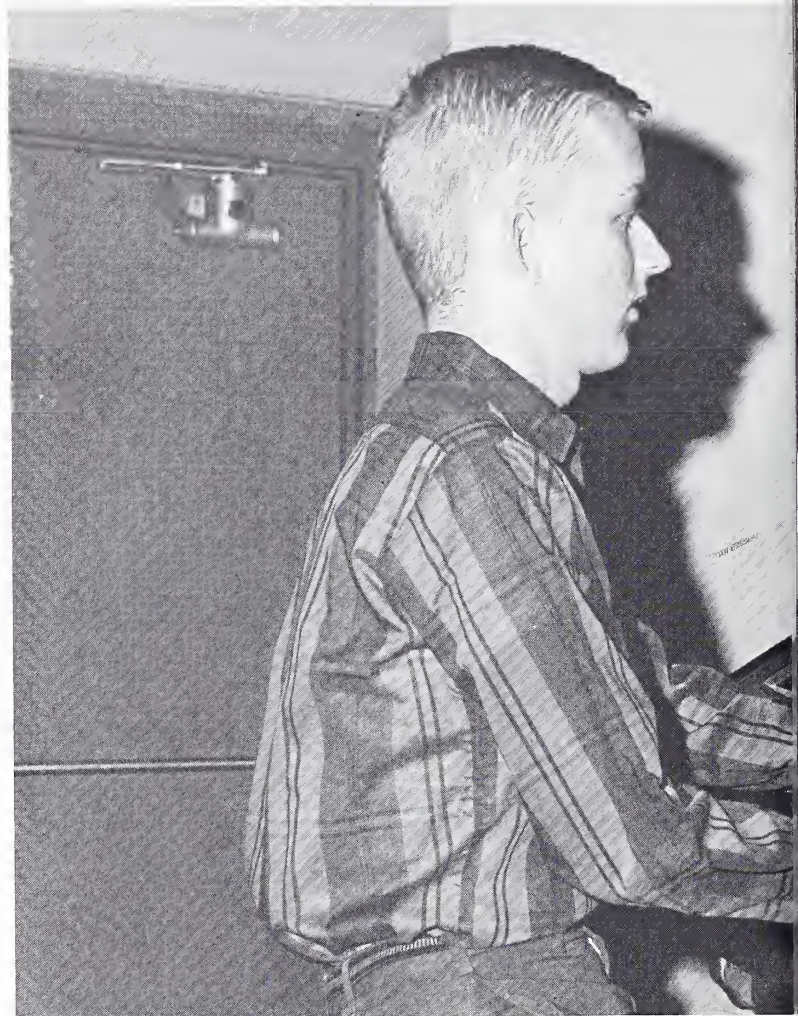

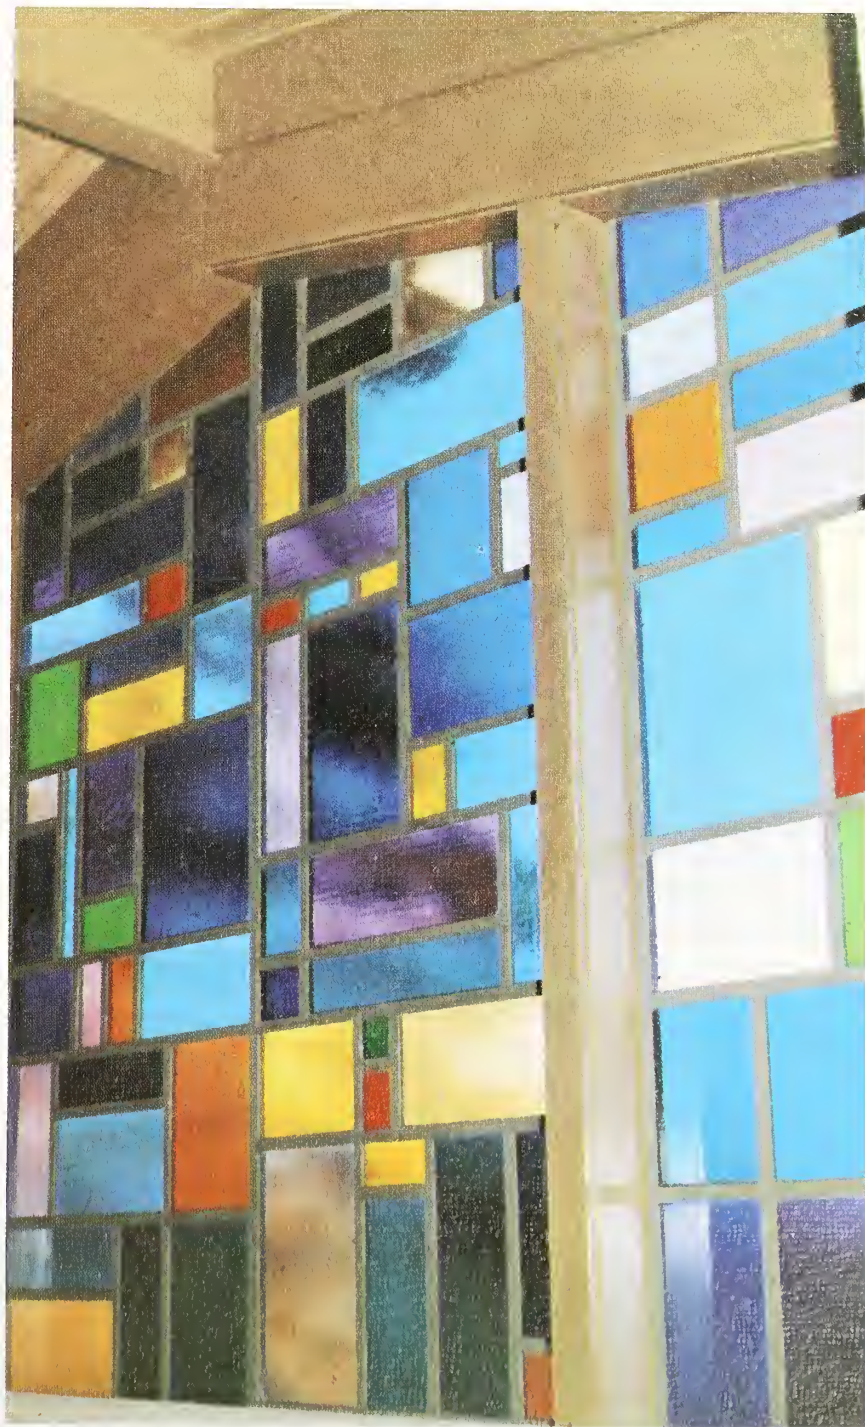

REVERENCE

The Aurora expresses the mood of reverence. Opportunities for worship are provided on the North Greenville campus through the student participation in the Volunteer Band programs, in Young Woman's Auxiliary, in the dormitory devotions, at vespers, in chapel, at prayer meeting, and at the regular Sunday church services.

During these times, reverence for God is expressed in prayer, in song, in communication, in attitude, sincerity as the student grows in the awareness of his responsibilities to his Heavenly Father and to his fellowmen.

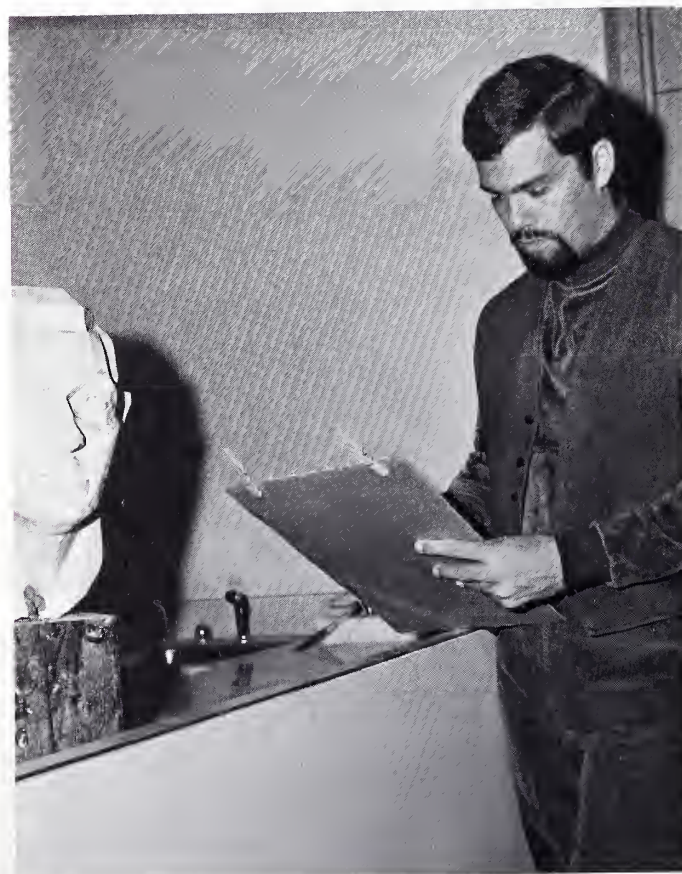

OPTIMISM

Throughout the years at North Greenville, all have had the mountain top experiences as well as the valley ones; however, we have tried to make the most of enjoyments and packed away the troubles.

The Aurora reflects the aspects of optimism one receives through the enjoyment and satisfaction of creating something, of stretching his imagination, of being able to participate in an activity, of having new worlds unfolded, of exploring the structure and processes of the human body, and even of looking beyond the rainy day.

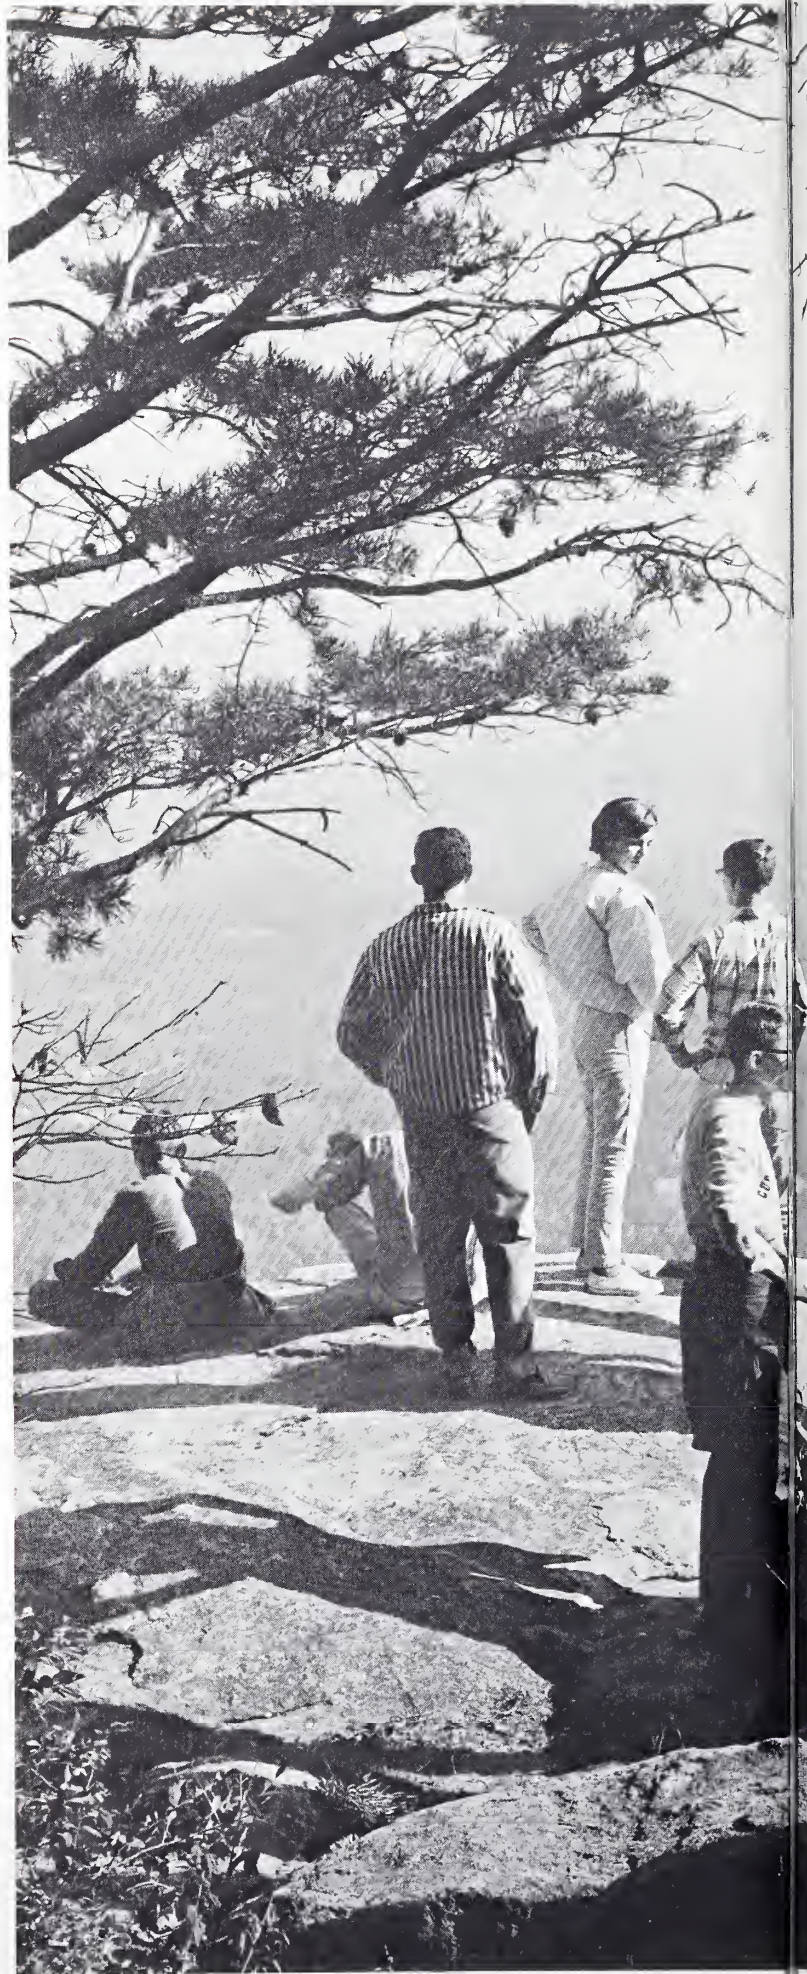

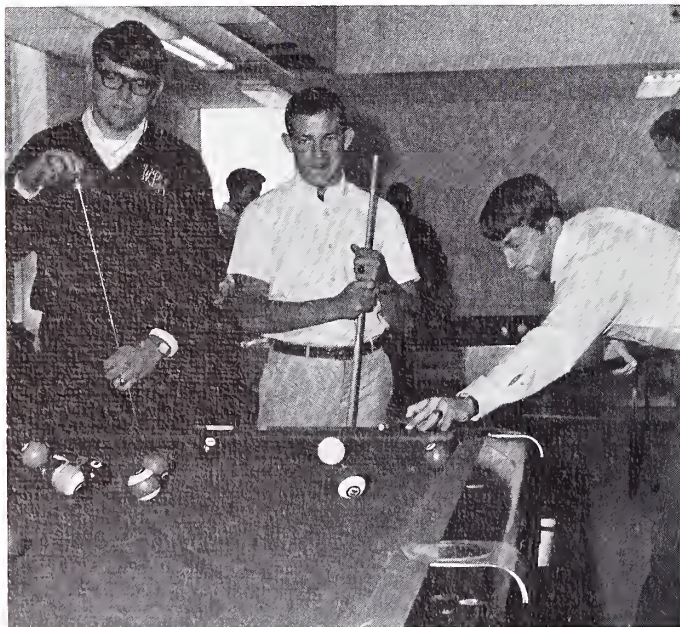

RELAXATION

Relaxation is an important mood the Aurora expresses. The students and faculty always enjoy a break from the daily routine of college life. The Foster Student Center has been meaningful in the facilities afforded for relaxation. Everyone enjoys sitting and chatting with friends; getting a snack; watching T.V.; checking mail; playing ping-pong, pool, chess, scrabble, and even checkers; and browsing in the college store.

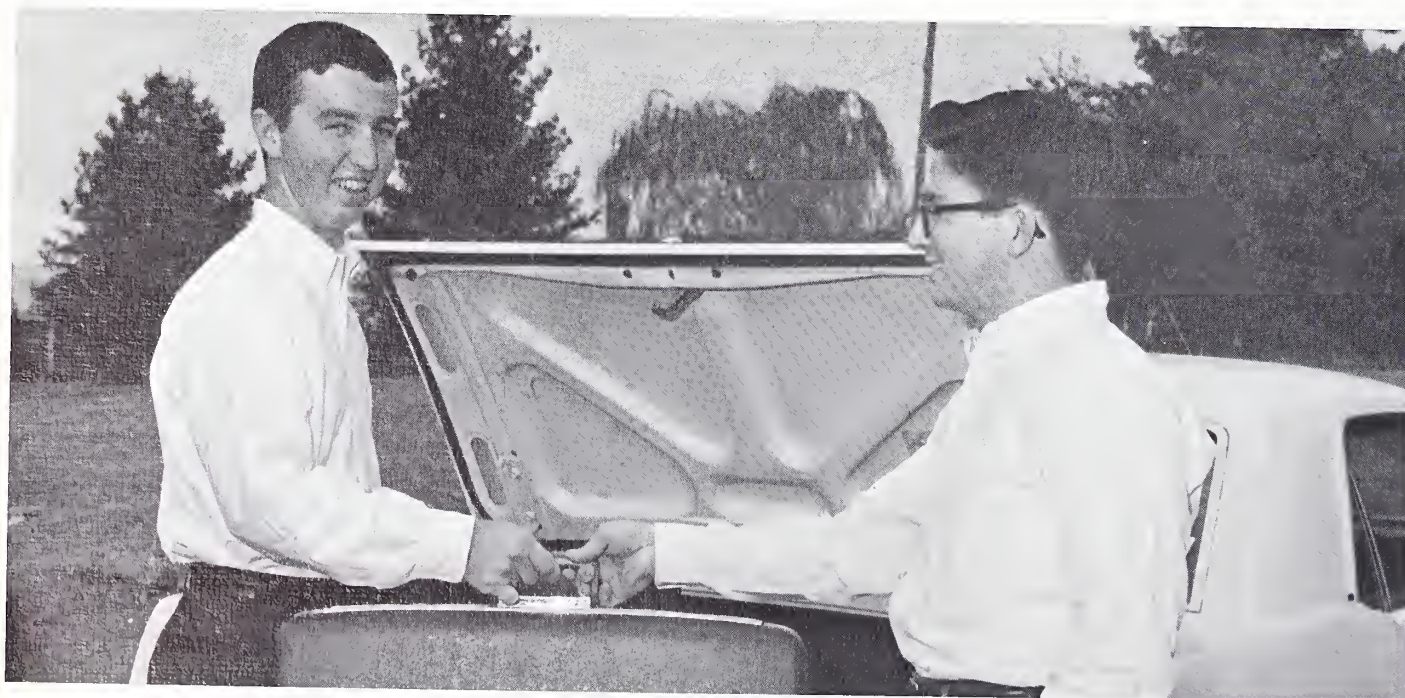

Even an occasional trip off campus is refreshing. The steaks that were cooked at Glassy Mountain will always be remembered. Many groups enjoyed trips to Poinsett Bridge. Also, Baldy was a popular place when the snows came. To many, it is relaxing just to stroll on the campus and behold God's majesty.

APPRECIATION

The mood of appreciation is often neglected at North Greenville. Seldom do we take the time to appreciate fully the rich inheritance that we have received in the very founding of a college stressing academic excellence in a Christian environment; the services performed by our faculty, administration, and staff; the kindness shown by fellow students; the assistance students give faculty and their families; the harmonious attitude existing between Sophomores and Freshmen; and the friendliness and sharing of fellow classmates.

Mr. José A. Fernández gets ready to leave the classroom after a day of teaching.

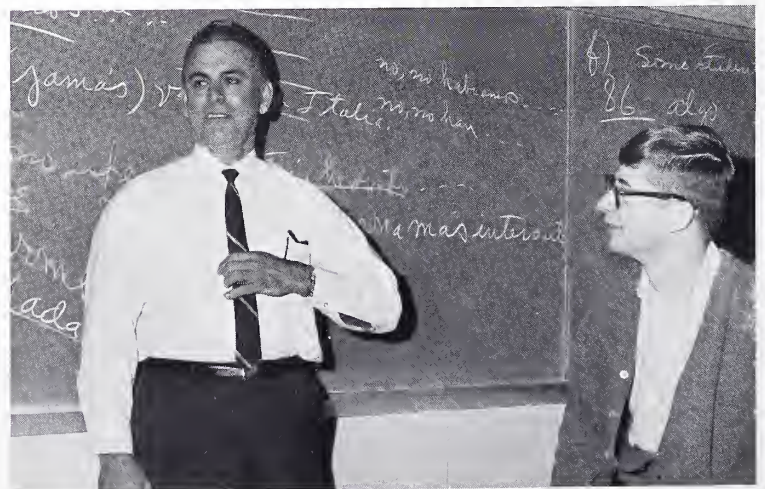

DEDICATION

"To sow a dream and see it spread and grow
To light a lamp and watch its brightness gleam
Here is a gift that is divine . . ."

The person to whom the 1968 Aurora is dedicated has sown a dream and has shared the light with all the students in his classes. He has been strong when there was much to suffer. He has been brave when there was much to dare. He has given without the thought of gift. He has loved liberty and country at the cost of great price. The Aurora staff proudly dedicates the 1968 Aurora to Mr. Jose Fernandez.

Señor Fernández gives a friendly smile as he arrives on campus.

Señor Fernández stays after class to help Tommy Jackson improve his Spanish accent.

ADMINISTRATION—STAFF FACULTY AND CURRICULUM

President

During the past five years, Dr. Thomas L. Neely has served North Greenville not only as an administrator but also as a man of God. He is a graduate of North Greenville, Wofford, and Southwestern Seminary.

In 1943, Dr. Neely went to Columbia, South America, as a missionary. Five years later, he began the first mission work in Venezuela. In 1953, he resigned his missionary appointment and returned to South Carolina as a pastor. Four years later, he became assistant to Dr. Murphree C. Donnan, president of North Greenville Junior College. Upon Dr. Donnan's retirement in 1962, Dr. Neely succeeded as president. In 1964, Furman University conferred upon him the honorary divinity degree.

In addition to his responsibility as president of the college, Dr. Neely was elected in November, 1967, to the presidency of the South Carolina Baptist Convention.

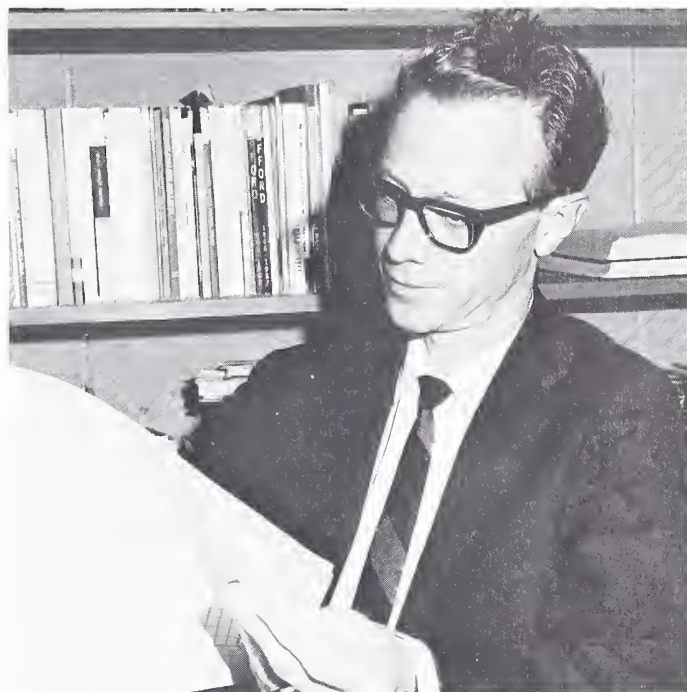

ADMINISTRATION

With dedication and foresight, Dr. Murphree C. Donnan served North Greenville from 1928 to his retirement in 1962. He came as principal of the academy and was instrumental in the growth of the school into a junior college. His interest in young people and his faith in God helped make the school what it is today — a Christian institution.

In August, 1966, Dr. Carl G. Campbell came as assistant to the president in the area of development. Dr. Campbell was scheduled to retire, but North Greenville has kept him very busy as he has traveled throughout the state and into many adjoining states seeking gifts from alumni, organizations, businesses and friends who value and would like to aid a small denominational school.

Dr. Paul A. Talmadge, a native of Alabama, joined the faculty in 1962 as instructor of Bible. Upon the retirement of the Academic Dean, Mr. H. J. Howard, in 1965, Dr. Talmadge was appointed to that position. This year he has been especially busy directing the preparation for self-study by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Dr. Paul Talmadge, Dean of Instruction, accepts the responsibility of helping students.

Dr. Murphree C. Donnan President Emeritus Dr. Carl G. Campbell Assistant to President Dr. Paul A. Talmadge Dean of Instruction

Dr. Campbell leafs through a favorite volume.

Dr. Donnan enjoys his retirement.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Charles V. Bruce, North Greenville's Business Manager since 1949, has the great responsibility of keeping the college on a sound financial basis. He discharges his duties admirably as each person on campus is greatly affected by the work of the business office.

Mr. Dewey L. Calvert has multiple duties as Director of Admissions and as Director of Athletics. In addition to his duties on campus, he also travels a great deal about the state as field representative attending college days held in various high schools.

Having served the college as Dean of Instruction from 1949 to 1965, Mr. Henry J. Howard has retired as dean but continues to teach two classes of literature. From These Roots, Mr. Howard's history of North Greenville, was published in 1967 to help celebrate the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the college.

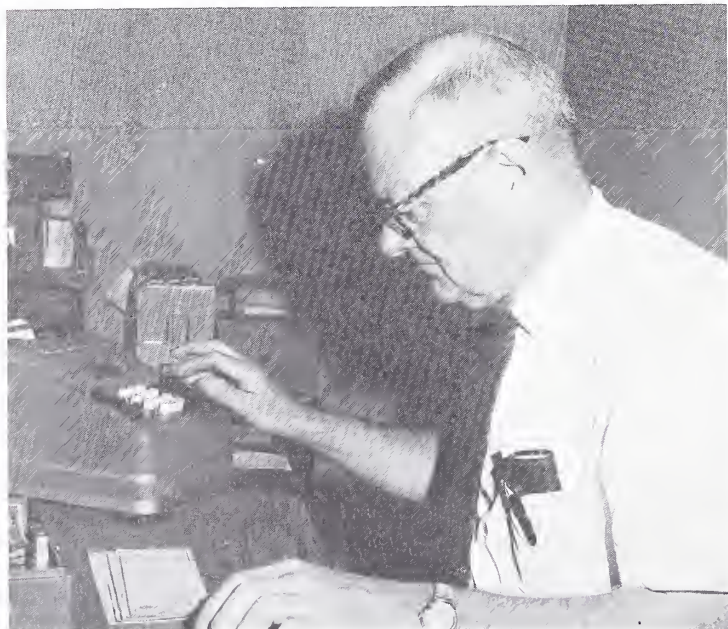

Mr. Calvert helps Larry Poole in the selection of courses.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Whether it was voting for immediate action on referendums, approving changes in trusteeship, or authorizing funds for a new building, the Board of Trustees enjoyed a very busy and successful year. First of all, changes were made early in the year for three additional members. Mr. Fred Stanley Mahaffey, assistant manager of Woodside Mills at Fountain Inn, and Dr. William T. Hendrix, a Spartanburg physician, along with the college's first woman trustee, Mrs. Joe K. Kinard, served effectively this year as the school's most recent trustees.

With the prime interest of the college in mind, the Trustees approved the annual budget, authorized the building of a modern library and voted to delay changing the name of the college until further study is made. Lastly, the Board completed an eventful year by approving Dr. Carl G. Campbell's seeking endowment for a Chair of Bible to be named in honor of Dr. M. C. Donnan, president emeritus of the college.

Mr. Barefoot, one of the trustees, speaks to Carolyn Parkinson after chapel.

EXECUTIVE STAFF

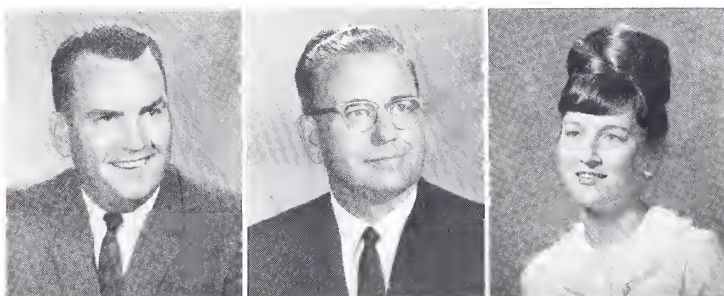

The Executive Staff is indispensable to the college. The members are concerned with the life in the dormitories, the health of everyone on campus, the effective management of the offices, the supervision of buildings and grounds, the release of college news to alumni and friends, and the supply of materials from the college store.

BUSINESS AND COMMERCE

Mr. Charles V. Bruce
Business Law

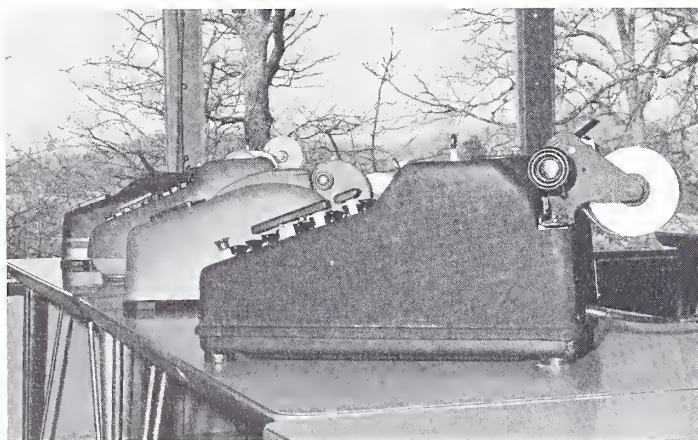

Mr. Richard O. Khoe
Accounting and Economics

Mr. Charles V. Bruce, chairman of the Business and Commerce Department.

The Business and Commerce Department has a two-fold purpose. The major purpose is to provide instruction of a terminal nature for those students who plan to enter immediately after graduation a career in the field of business. Elementary courses in accounting, economics, and commercial law are offered for the business major. Also, classes conducting the operation of business machines, business correspondence, typewriting, transcription, and shorthand are offered to any student.

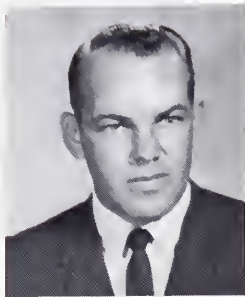

For women, terminal two-year courses in shorthand and transcription, typewriting, business correspondence, machine operation, filing, and transcription from a voice recorder are offered for those planning to enter the secretarial field.

Adding machines and calculators are very helpful to the business students.

Between business classes Mrs. Wood studies Spanish.

Mr. Robert T. Roper, Jr.
Business Mathematics

Mrs. Delane B. Wood
Typing and Shorthand

The photographer caught Mr. Roper and Mr. Bruce after a faculty meeting.

Mr. Roper explains overhead and profit to his Business Math class.

The second purpose of the Business Department is to introduce the business administration major to the field of business.

At North Greenville, prerequisites to a senior college business administration course are offered as well as introductory courses in law, economics, and accounting.

Correcting accounting and economics homework consumes much of Mr. Khoe's time.

ENGLISH

Courses in English, Journalism, and Speech are included within the English Department. Freshman English courses help the student achieve the standard of usage of the English language — both in expressing his ideas and in understanding what he reads. Freshmen are expected to use their knowledge for further learning in college and in everyday life.

Studies in journalism include understanding the organization of a daily newspaper as well as the study of various types of news stories.

English Literature is designed to give students further training in critical reading, thinking, and writing. The student, in developing an understanding of the value of literature, uses the course as a medium for interpreting the ideals, customs, and culture of different ages.

A course in Speech places emphasis on clarity of thought and expression and the techniques of communication.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts Department includes courses in art and music. Classes in Art Appreciation and Art Fundamentals give the student a foundation course in the history and fundamentals of art. An understanding is stressed of what has been done by others in both the past and modern times in the fields of painting, sculpture, and architecture. Working with line, shape, value, texture, and color is emphasized in the basic knowledge of Art Fundamentals. Both classes make field trips to view paintings and architecture. This year, trips were made to study the modern Gothic styling of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Greenville. Other trips were made to see paintings and ceramics on exhibit at Furman University, Bob Jones University, and the Greenville County Museum of Art.

Mr. Driggers practices techniques he teaches.

The music faculty is striving to give musically interested students a well-rounded, basic introduction to music. Courses are offered to arouse interest in music and for those who plan to go into one of the varied fields of music as a profession. Students are urged to appreciate in music that which challenges and stirs the imagination and which deepens the understanding of those who participate or listen. Among the events of the year, the A Cappella Choir performed at the South Carolina Baptist Convention. In the spring, the choir gave concerts in various churches and high schools in the state.

Health and Women's Physical Education

Health and Physical Education provide a "whole school" interest. The activities include students other than athletes and enlist all students interested in sports. Physical education enables the program of the Athletic Department to fit harmoniously into the overall educational program of the college.

Coach Worley is interrupted by the phone.

Mrs. Proctor stresses the importance of maintaining good health.

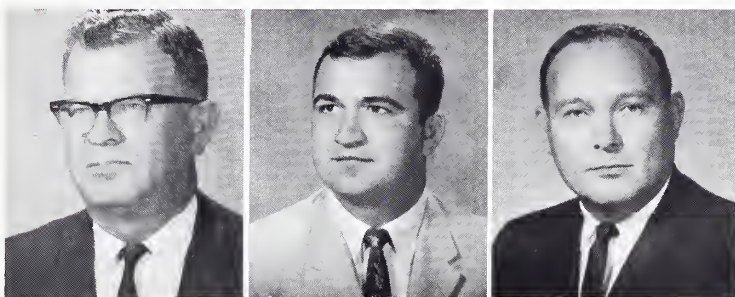

Mr. Calvert, chairman of the Athletic Department.

Mrs. Burgess coaches a vigorous team.

Besides teaching aspects of health, safety, and sanitation, physical education urges competition in a basic American tradition. Physical activity illustrates new skills, and opportunity is provided to exemplify and observe good sportsmanship in victory and defeat. The Health and Physical Education Department stresses that penalties always follow violation of the rules whether it is in the field of sports or in the game of life.

MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Classes in French strive to stress the increasing importance of the communication of ideas in a modern foreign language. Both beginner and intermediate French courses enable the student to gain a reading, speaking, and writing knowledge of the language. A two-semester course in French Literature enables the French student to survey the works of famous authors of the past and the present. Special instruction in French reading and conversation gives the student understanding of a foreign culture and furnishes a background for the appreciation of the language and the customs of the French people.

Señor Fernández explains bull fighting.

Mr. Fernández talks with our editor concerning a Spanish major.

The colorful expressions and the distinguishable charm of the Spanish language are presented in both the beginner and intermediate courses. The beginner course stresses the use of the language with a knowledge of basic grammar, reading, writing, and conversation. The intermediate course continues the instruction in verbs, vocabulary, and grammar — the tools needed for speaking a new language. Also, the student learns more about the culture of the Spanish people while acquiring at the same time a greater understanding of the Spanish temperament and point of view. Without this knowledge, there can be no real meeting of minds in any language.

NATURAL SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS

Mrs. Evelyn Corderman
Mathematics and Physics
Mrs. Margaret Reeves
Chemistry

Courses in biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics make up the Natural Sciences and Mathematics Department.

The course in biology is designed to cover the general principles of process and activities incidental to and characteristic of life. Emphasis is placed upon the organ systems of the animal body and the structure and physiology of the plant body.

The chemistry courses include both introductory and inorganic chemistry. The understanding of the basic elements is stressed with their use in everyday life. The general principles of chemistry are taught as foundation for further study.

Jane Robertson gets a helping hand from Mr. Roper.

Physics is a study of mechanics, heat, light, sound, electricity, and magnetism. Emphasis is placed on mathematical problems and in derivations of formulas as well as on factual material.

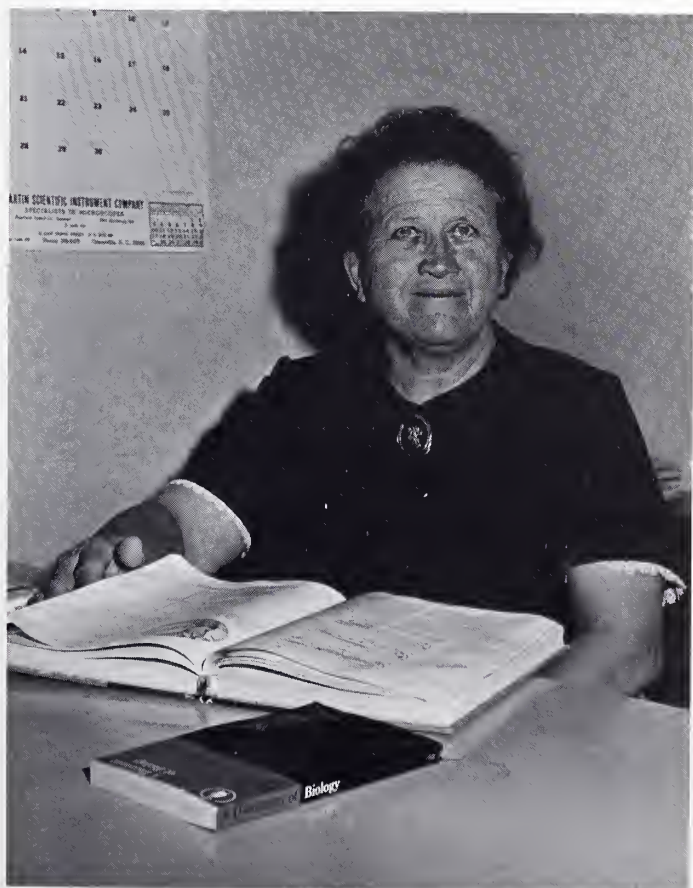

The courses in mathematics include studies in algebra, trigonometry, and advanced mathematics. Algebra courses give the student a modern introduction to college algebra and equip him for studies in higher mathematics. Plane trigonometry gives the student a basic foundation in the system of mathematics. The five-hour math course is an integrated course of algebra and trigonometry with an introduction to analytic geometry and calculus.

RELIGION

Mr. Wade H. Hale
Bible

Dr. Dan W. Proctor
Bible and Greek

Dr. John H. Walker
Bible and Religious Education

The Religion Department introduces the studies in the Old and New Testaments, religious education, and advanced studies in the Bible.

Old Testament history is introduced by placing emphasis on the religious development of the Hebrew people, their leading personalities, key archaeological items, and the nature of Biblical revelation.

In the survey course of the New Testament, the inter-Biblical period and the historical background of the New Testament times are studied. The life and teachings of Jesus and the apostolic history are also emphasized.

Departmental expenses are checked by Dr. Proctor.

Dr. Walker shows Eris Hutto the right answers.

The Religion faculty leave chapel.

Religious Education introduces Baptist life and work by surveying Baptist history, doctrines, institutions, and organization of the local church. Methods of Bible teaching and religious education are also taught for those interested in the field of religious education. Attention is given to the Old and New Testament, to church history, and to the place of religious education in church and denominational life.

It must be another of Dr. Proctor's Greek jokes.

Mr. Hale tells of smoking grape vines when he was young.

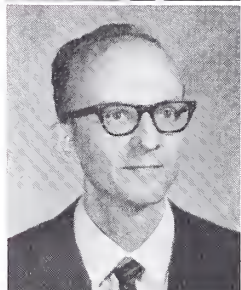

Geographical regions of Palestine interest Dr. Walker.

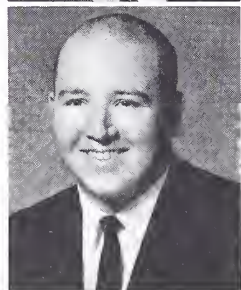

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Mr. George F. Case, Jr.
Psychology

Mr. Cline E. Hall
History

Mr. Barry E. Hambright
History and Government

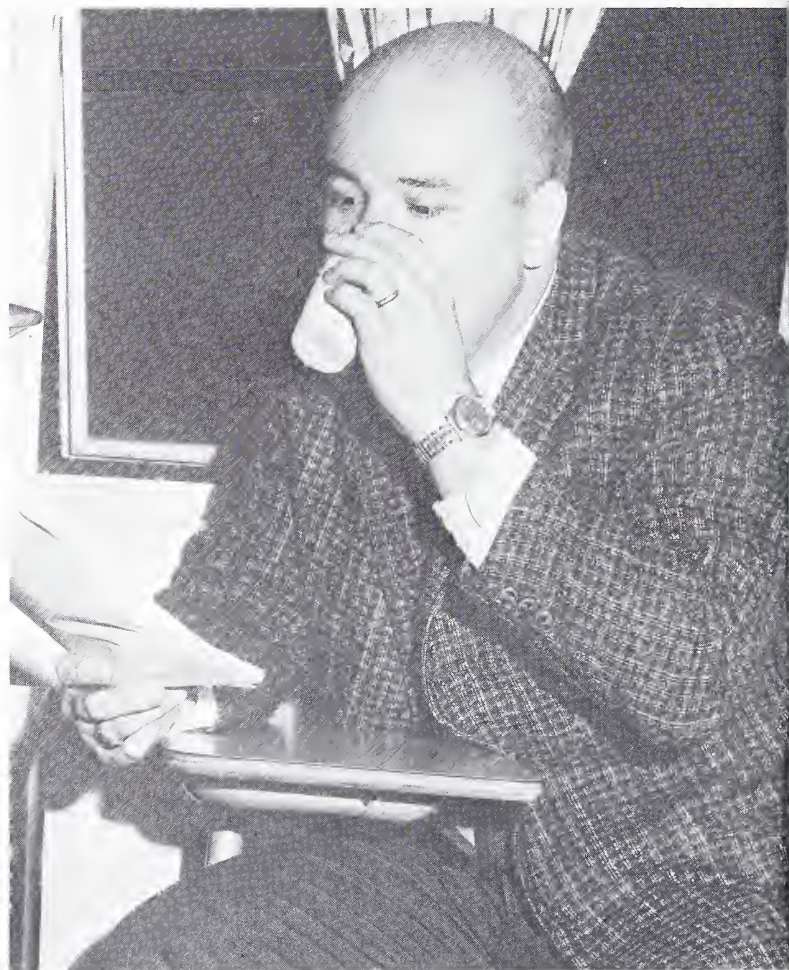

Mr. Case, do the scores fall along the bell curve?

The Social Science Department is composed of courses in sociology, history, government, psychology, education, and leadership. The main purpose of this department is to give basic knowledge in each course, with advanced studies.

Sociology is designed to help the individual realize his role in the human aggregate and in the fast-moving world in which he lives. The psychology courses give the student an understanding of physiological and psychological basis of behavior, emphasize the important changes which occur in the adolescent years, and introduce the application of the principles of psychology to personal problems, business, industry, and family life.

The Western Civilization course introduces man's cultural, social, and political progress since early civilization. American History presents the economic, social, and political factors which have contributed to the national development of the United States. The student also obtains clear understanding of the nature and value of American democracy.

Mr. Hambright really likes coffee.

Mr. Hall prepares to take notes from parallel readings.

Mrs. Carey M. Roper, Jr., chairman of the Social Sciences Department.

American Federal Government serves as an introduction to the study of political science and American government. The study of state and local government is general, with emphasis placed on state, county, and city levels.

The education courses give a general survey of the general aspects of education — preparing for a career in teaching, considering the duties and relationships of a teacher, and recognizing the importance of the school in American society.

Leadership, required for presidents of all campus organizations, stresses the basic factors of human relationships.

LIBRARY

Hester Memorial Library, named in honor of the Reverend H. C. Hester, principal of North Greenville Academy from 1920-1928, contains over fifteen thousand volumes exclusive of pamphlets and pictures. The library receives over two hundred magazines and nine daily newspapers. There are also collections of records, filmstrips, and microfilm. The library is open sixty-seven hours a week with trained personnel available for assistance. The library accommodates approximately eighty people at one time. A conference room is available to small groups for study or committee meetings. A separate library building is planned in the current development program.

The college on the hill brings
 Again to her gates the youth of the year.
 They will toil and strive,
 And to her heart she will always
 Hold them dear.
 Then soon is heard her parting words
 To the class of sixty-eight:
 "Go, my sons and daughters;
 Go and take from me
 What my torch has given you.
 Hush the cry of lost humanity,
 Place your burdens at the foot of the Cross;
 And if there be one who falters,
 It is a grievous loss."

FRESHMAN

A freshman's busy days are filled with activities:

Going, seeing, deciding, discovering—and deciding a little more.

Each day is unique, exciting, exhilarating, exhausting.

A freshman's cluttered room is his temporary home —

Cleaning, sweeping, dusting, preparing — and cleaning a little more.

Each room is unique, individual, personal.

A freshman's ideas are crowded with emotions:

Laughing, grieving, crying, joking —
and crying a little more.

Each emotion is unique, thoughtful, sincere.

A freshman's goal is a better life,

Thinking, striving, studying, learning, knowing—and studying a little more.

Each goal is unique, demanding, reachable.

FEATURES

RAT WEEK

For all Freshmen, August 28 — September 1 was the dreaded week — Rat Week. Sophomores volunteered to have their shoes shined, cars washed, windows cleaned, and floors mopped by the Rats.

It was a week of unforgettable sounds — knees cracking as students stooped under the tables for air raids, shy voices proposing marriage to someone, and in the cafeteria, the constant patter of feet as new students carried trays for upperclassmen. The most treasured sound was heard at the end of the week when the Freshmen proudly joined the Sophomores in singing the Alma Mater.

CHRISTIAN EMPHASIS WEEK

"Youth's Rebellion for Christ" was the theme for Christian Emphasis Week, October 31 — November 3, a week set aside at North Greenville to concentrate on spiritual matters.

Miss Nell Magee, program consultant in the Student Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tennessee, was the co-ordinator for the week's activities. Team members for the week represented many vocations. They participated in chapel programs, seminars, buzz sessions in the dormitories, and individual class discussions. Also, the team staged a talent show. The week was a time of discussing, learning, sharing, and deepening of students' spiritual values.

Miss Ann Collins, one of the guest speakers during Christian Emphasis Week, captivated the interest of the students.

SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY PAGEANT

On October 24, 1967, the curtains of history were drawn back to present the growth of North Greenville from a high school, to an academy, and finally to a junior college. The Light Goes Forth, a pageant written and staged by Mrs. Joada Hiatt, presented the North Greenville story. The last scene of the pageant was one of inspiration as students, representing the different countries to which North Greenville alumni have gone as missionaries, circled the auditorium with their candles representing Christ as the Light of the World.

The community children also played important parts in the Anniversary Pageant.

MISS AURORA PAGEANT

On the evening of December 1, tension mounted steadily as thirteen North Greenville girls representing various campus organizations paraded across the stage before a stunning backdrop.

"A Portrait of Miss Aurora" was the theme for the pageant, sponsored by the Sophomore class. Three phases were presented for the portrait of each contestant. Casual wear, showing a variety of styles and colors, was the first picture of the girls. Then came the talent, which ranged from pink panthers to clown acts. Evening wear provided the finishing touches for the portraits. Last moments of frantic indecision finally revealed the Miss Aurora of 1968 — Miss Linda Mooney.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Christmas at North Greenville has myriad faces. It's decorations in the dorms; it's finally buying a gift for your roommate; it's having those exams finished.

There were sounds of excitement while trees were cut and trimmed for the halls, prizes given for the best dormitory decorations, and a beautiful blending of voices from the special Christmas choir program presented on Open House Day and in chapel. The final sound was the student whom you do not know saying, "Have a nice Christmas!"

Girls, you may open your packages now.

FOUNDERS' DAY

A pictorial history of North Greenville.

A dream fulfilled.

In spite of the snow and ice, North Greenville observed Founders' Day on January 15. The speaker for the chapel service was Dr. Robert S. Denny, associate secretary of the Baptist World Alliance. Dr. Denny is internationally known for his work with college students.

After a vocal selection by Diane Taylor, Dr. Denny expressed appreciation for the work of North Greenville's founders; then he added, "You're here to do something about the future." Throughout his inspiring speech, he urged North Greenville students to employ the right motives and to develop character, dependability, and integrity.

MISS NORTH GREENVILLE

Is Kaye taking the Crest test?

Kaye always has a bright smile for a rainy day.

A typical closing of a girl's busy day.

The young lady chosen as Miss North Greenville is a person who holds the respect and admiration of each person on the campus. She was chosen for her friendliness and her personality, her academic achievement, her beauty, charm, and poise. She is known for her dedication, loyalty, and encouragement to her fellow students. She has a willingness to help all those about her. She takes pride in her work and accepts the responsibilities of leadership. In view of these qualities the student body has chosen Kaye Letbetter as Miss North Greenville for 1968.

At the closing of the day comes the opening of the books.

Mr. North Greenville is chosen on the basis of qualities viewed and respected by all students at North Greenville. These qualities are personality, scholastic achievement, dependability, school spirit, honesty, and appearance. He upholds the high Christian ideals and traditions set forth by our college. He is patient, dedicated, and loyal. He strives to complete to the best of his ability everything he undertakes. He is willing to work, to accept responsibility, and to use his talents for the betterment of North Greenville Junior College. The students take great pride in electing Woody Catoe as Mr. North Greenville.

Mr. and Miss North Greenville can be counted on to do a good job.

SCHOLARSHIP DAY

Scholarship Day was observed January 22, 1968, by a chapel program with Mr. C. E. Butler, Academic Dean of Anderson College, as the guest speaker. Dean Butler challenged all students to prepare an education that would sufficiently meet their world. During this chapel program special recognition was given to ten outstanding students who had achieved at least a 2.5 grade point average. Five had accomplished this during the fall semester, and the other five were returning students whose cumulative grade point average was 2.5 or better. As these young people stood in response to their fellow students' applause, their modesty was both evident and genuine because they had not been motivated to excel in their studies by a desire for public recognition.

A local chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college honor fraternity, has been established at North Greenville to further honor such students. Admission requirements are high — a 2.5 grade point average for one semester's work and the maintenance of at least a 2.0 average for every succeeding semester. To belong to Phi Theta Kappa is one of the highest honors that can come to a student at North Greenville.

WHO'S WHO

Carl Woodrow Catoe

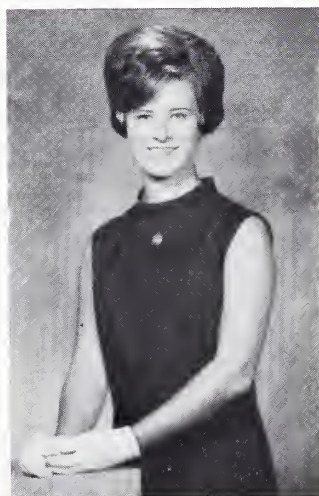

Alice Janice Gillespie

Choices surround us with a circus clamor — to do many things or nothing, to mature or drift. These nine students did many things with their traits of scholarship, character, leadership, and service, and strived for self-improvement in all their activities. Each has his own goals and standards, yet never forgot his acceptance of concomitant responsibility to North Greenville. Each conquered the chance of not just to be, but to become.

North Greenville proudly gives recognition to these students by their receiving Who's Who in American Junior Colleges.

CAMPUS LIFE

To make a world there must be four corners. North Greenville has created a world of her own by placing each corner at a certain location on campus. The first corner is found at the Administration Building. Here the early eight o'clock classes are met, endless pages of notes from class lectures are taken, and term papers are assigned that require numerous visits to the library, also housed in the Administration Building. Learning plays a big role in campus life.

The gymnasium adds a corner to the North Greenville world. School spirit is born as cheers, shouts, and even occasional tears are expressed while emotions are stirred during activities played here.

The dormitories are the third corner. In these buildings, maturity is being reached as students make decisions and as they learn to live in a college environment.

The fourth corner is located at the Student Center — the greatest part of campus life. Parts from all the other corners of North Greenville's world are found here.

Simpson Hall — the beginning of a girl's college days.

Donnan Administration Building — a known destination.

Foster Student Center — fun, food, and fad.

The gymnasium — an area of elation and sometimes disappointment.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Student Government Association strives for the best possible representation of the student body in its activities and programs. Its officers, who are elected each March by the student body, seek to voice the ideas and opinions of the students as well as to lead them in an effort to promote co-operation and a unity of spirit at North Greenville.

The executive council, which is the main council of the Student Government, promotes campus functions and maintains high standards of conduct and leadership within the student body.

The S.G.A. sponsored several activities and projects which included the Freshman-Sophomore basketball game, the hike up Glassy, the Freshman talent show, the movies, Summer Magic and The Restless Ones, plus plans for establishing an honor system at North Greenville.

REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL

The Representative Council of the S.G.A. is composed of the presidents of all campus organizations plus the vice-presidents of both classes and the executive council. The S.G.A. vice-president serves as chairman.

Meetings are held whenever there is a need for organizing club activities, meetings, and projects. This year the Representative Council, along with the Executive Council, organized the campus Christmas decorations and helped establish a system of requirements for organizing clubs.

The organization presidents are required to take a course in Leadership, which helps them better to fulfill their roles as campus leaders through the study of various leadership theories and techniques.

S. G. A. JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Woody Catoe, chairman.

To handle minor disciplinary problems which are referred to it by the administration, faculty, or staff is the main duty of the Judicial Council of the S.G.A. The S.G.A. president serves as chairman. The other members are one freshman boarding girl, one freshman boarding boy, and one freshman day student. The presidents of two campus organizations also serve each month.

In the past, the Judicial Council has not had to review many cases, and fortunately this year was not an exception.

Dickie Garrett, boarding boy representative, prepares to write a summons.

WOMEN'S HOUSE COUNCIL

The primary purpose of the Women's House Council is to see to the welfare of all the boarding girls. The Council meets regularly to discuss policies which concern the group and to deal with minor infractions reported to them by the hall monitors or by the Dean of Women. Major infractions are referred to the Student Government Association. Each year the Council sponsors an open house in the women's dormitory at which time visitors may enjoy the decorations on each hall and refreshments in Howard Hall lounge.

One of Mrs. Crain's many jobs is approving the sign-out cards.

A duty of the Women's House Council monitors is to check rooms each night.

MEN'S HOUSE COUNCIL

In 1965 the men's dormitory began electing officers to serve as a governing system for boarding men. Officers are chosen by the boarding men, the monitors, and the Dean of Men. The Council deals with minor infractions and refers major infractions to the Student Government. This year the Council sponsored Christmas dormitory decorations which were judged by the faculty. A cash prize was given to the person who had shown the most originality in his decorations.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Baptist students who are members of the various church-affiliated organizations on campus such as Training Union, Sunday School, Volunteer Band, Ministerial Band and Y.W.A.'s are members of the Baptist Student Union. The Executive Council is annually elected by the previous council members and the B.S.U. sponsor to supervise and coordinate the work of the various organizations.

Polly Henderson, president.

GREATER COUNCIL

The Greater Council, chosen by the B.S.U. Executive Council, assists in planning the activities of the organizations. The Greater Council helped in carrying out several B.S.U. projects, among which were the showing of the Billy Graham movie, For Pete's Sake, and highlight of the year, Christian Emphasis Week.

DEAN CRAIN MINISTERIAL BAND

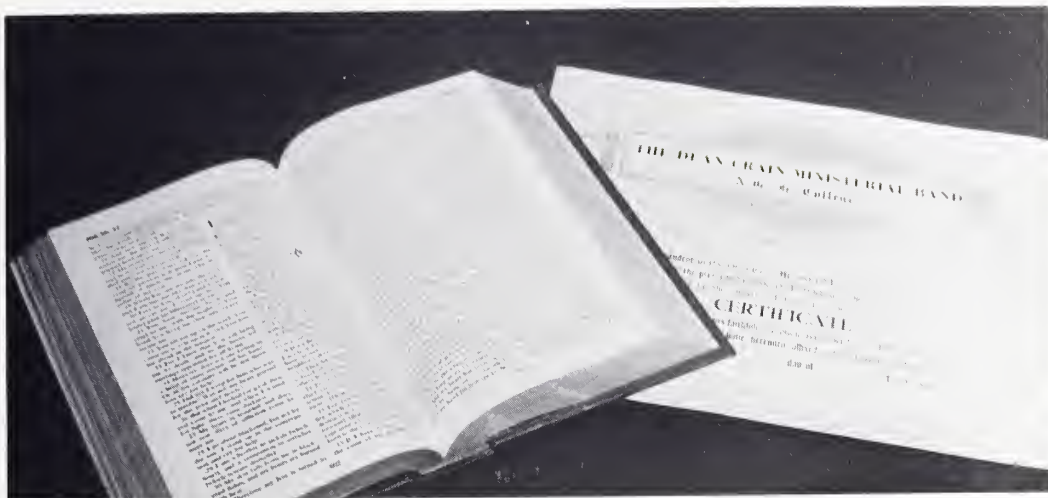

Students who can conscientiously affirm that they have been called to enter the ministry may join the Ministerial Band. The Band attempts to enrich the spiritual lives of its members and to prepare them for a richer ministry. The members receive instruction in church and denominational life and in the various duties of a pastor. During the current academic year the Band made trips to a prison camp and held services for the prisoners.

VOLUNTEER BAND

Students who are dedicated to Christian service are qualified to become members of the Volunteer Band. The purpose of the club is to develop its members through Christian fellowship, through a study of world conditions, and through a common purpose in prayer. To promote this purpose, the programs are varied, including missionary speakers, tapes, and various teams through which direct services can be rendered. One of the most popular teams is the Deputation Team, which visits churches and presents testimonies and a skit.

YOUNG WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

Thoughtful study of the missionary message of the Bible, devoted community missions for the spiritually and physically needy, and regular and proportionate giving to world-wide missions are the ideals of the Young Woman's Auxiliary. The aim of the Y.W.A. is to unite the young women of the Southern Baptist Churches in an enduring missionary enterprise.

Before North Greenville students arrived in the fall, the Executive Council had a pre-school retreat, formulating the Y.W.A. Calendar of Activities for the year. These activities included observance of Home and Foreign Mission Weeks of Prayer, mission study courses, Y.W.A. Focus Week, a Valentine Banquet, and state house parties.

ESSE QUAM VIDERE

Young girls who are chosen for membership on high scholastic achievement in English are eligible to become members of the Esse Quam Videre, an honorary literary society. The purpose of E.Q.V. is to train young women to preside over public gatherings, to be poised and at ease in the presence of others, and to appreciate the fine arts.

Monthly programs are planned which include studies in music, literature, and art, emphasizing cultural refinement. The society sponsors a speech contest each spring, and the Garrett Speech Award is presented to the winner. Currently the members are designing an emblem and a pin which will become the permanent symbols of the club.

Under the leadership of Mr. Henry J. Howard, for whom the society was named, the Dean Howard Literary Society was organized in 1955. The primary objective of the organization is to train young men in the discussion of current affairs and to help them develop platform manners.

Throughout the year, speakers are invited to come and discuss current events as well as their personal activities and involvement in a particular aspect of society. Each year a speech contest is sponsored jointly by the Dean Howard Literary Society and the E.Q.V.

SOCK 'N' BUSKIN SOCIETY

Under the new name of Sock 'n' Buskin Society, the dramatics club at North Greenville is in its second year of existence. Membership is open to anyone who is sincerely interested in acting, stage lighting, stage make-up, or stage production. A point system was adopted this year for the purpose of naming the most outstanding member. The points are based on attendance, cooperation, holding an office, and overall participation. At the end of the year, the person's name will be inscribed on a plaque which is located in the showcase in the student center. The Sock 'n' Buskin Society, under the leadership of Mrs. Joada Hiatt, has been very much at work this year with the Talent Review and helping to produce the anniversary pageant, The Light Goes Forth, along with working on a musical to be presented in March.

PHI BETA LAMBDA

The college division of a national organization for students in Business Education is Phi Beta Lambda. The aim of the club is to help the future business men and women to develop strong, aggressive leadership so that they may participate more effectively in business and community life. At the various meetings the members discuss topics ranging from office manners to business procedures. Mrs. Delane Wood, who teaches typing and shorthand, is the sponsor of this organization.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Membership in Phi Theta Kappa, a new organization on campus, is the highest scholastic honor which can be bestowed upon a student at North Greenville. It is comprised of students who have obtained a 2.5 average or better, and is equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa in the senior college. Scholarship alone, however, is not the only qualification for membership; a student must also possess character and leadership qualities. Members are invited to join at the end of each semester. Charter members for the new organization which was formed last year are the following: Sandy Addis, Stephanie Beaver, Ranelle Berry, Ken Cooper, Linda Dickson, Luther Gailard, Janice Gillespie, Inez Hagood, Ruth Hammett, Harry Howard, Sam Jenkins, Tim McConnell, Tommy Merrill, Linda Miller, Martha Padgett, Linda Ross, and Donald Skelton.

Dr. Dan Proctor, sponsor; Linda Ross, treasurer; Ken Cooper, secretary.

George Hightower, president.

COLLEGIATE CIVITAN CLUB

The Collegiate Civitan Club is a member of Civitan International and is sponsored by the Civitan Club of Greer, South Carolina. The purpose of the club is to offer the opportunity for young men to build their character and to develop the ability to become good citizens. Membership is open to all Freshmen and Sophomore boys.

Music students who have maintained a "B" average in all their music classes are qualified for membership in the Etude Honorary Society. The society was formed to promote and encourage participation in the musical activities on the campus. The society is affiliated with the South Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. Each year the organization gives a music award to the boy and the girl who have been outstanding in music. The main project of the society is sponsoring the concert series. This year the members also sponsored a faculty musical, which was well received by the students.

COLLEGE CHOIR

A group of students chosen by private audition at the beginning of the year make up the College Choir. The Choir is one of the most active organizations on campus. This choral group, carrying its message to others, develops and presents various programs of sacred music throughout the year. This year the Choir sang for the South Carolina Baptist Convention and toured South Carolina in the spring presenting concerts in various churches.

FOURTH ROW: Don Rochester, Tommy Hill, Chip Culbertson, David Turner, John Watson, George Stone, Ken Swink, Wayne Turner, Woody Wood, Chico Costin, Matthew Limbaugh.

Choir practice is an informal but conscientious time.

Mr. Robinson, choir director.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION COUNCIL

Diane Schumpert, president.

In order to promote an interest in physical education, the Physical Education Council was formed. During the basketball season the Council provided a concession stand at each home game. They also collected Blue Horse coupons with the hope of purchasing bicycles for the use of students at North Greenville. Throughout the year the Council sponsored several intramural sports. At the end of each year the Council holds a banquet for its members.

The P.E. Council discusses projects for the year.

SKYLINER STAFF

Seeking to project a true image of North Greenville, attempting to cover fairly and impartially all news on the campus, and striving to present a record that is of interest in the present and will be of value in the future, the Skyliner is published monthly.

The Skyliner is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press and the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association. Produced by a staff of students and advised by Miss Gwen Lawton, the Skyliner serves both students and faculty.

CHEERLEADERS

Our cheerleaders constantly practice together long hours, compose new cheers, and organize routines to keep our school spirit at its peak. They have the double responsibility of boosting the morale of the team and the spectators and of drowning out the reaction after a point has been scored by the other team. The faithful leadership and spirit of the cheerleaders have led our teams and student body to many victories.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Our 1967-68 basketball team gave us many exciting moments during the season. We can never forget those cherished nights in which Billy Willis and David Cottengim gave to us the glory of winning over U.S.C. Freshmen, Anderson, and Brevard in the last few seconds of the game. Ray Cook, Dick Fowler, and Mike Wilson led the Mounties in scoring with an average of 18.0, 16.4, and 14.8 points respectively with little Larry Dangerfield making some key passes. With these six sophomores and the four freshmen working together as a smooth unit, they gave North Greenville the Louisburg College Thanksgiving Tournament Championship. Coach Tankersley's Mounties compiled a regular season record of 16 wins and 13 losses, and have high hopes of going into the West Conference of Junior Colleges tournament.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Basketball, the major sport of our girls, is beginning to draw almost as many people to the gym as our boys' team attracts each season. This year's girls' team is one of the best North Greenville has ever had. Our Lassies, under the direction of Mrs. Marie Burgess in her third year as coach, are greatly improving the five and five record of last year. Although our team is made up of four sophomores and seven freshmen, they work on the court as a unit that has been playing together for years and should bolster the place of girls' athletics at our college.

Our girls played hard against Brevard.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

Led by a majority of freshmen girls, the volleyball team got off to a slow start, but finally near the end of the season came into being. Even though the Lassies did not have a winning season, their competitiveness and fortitude never failed and made them respected by other teams and by our students. Coach Marie Burgess is looking forward to next year with five freshmen returning to the team.

BASEBALL

Although North Greenville has only three returning lettermen from last year, they are expecting to have a good baseball season under the new guidance of Coach Sam Worley. Of the eighteen games we play, Gardner-Webb, Anderson, and Brevard will be our toughest opponents. Donnie Hodge, Jim Tonnsen, and Larry Dangerfield, who led the team in hitting, will be the returning members to the 1968 squad.

ABOVE: Larry Dangerfield waits to take the field in practice.

GOLF

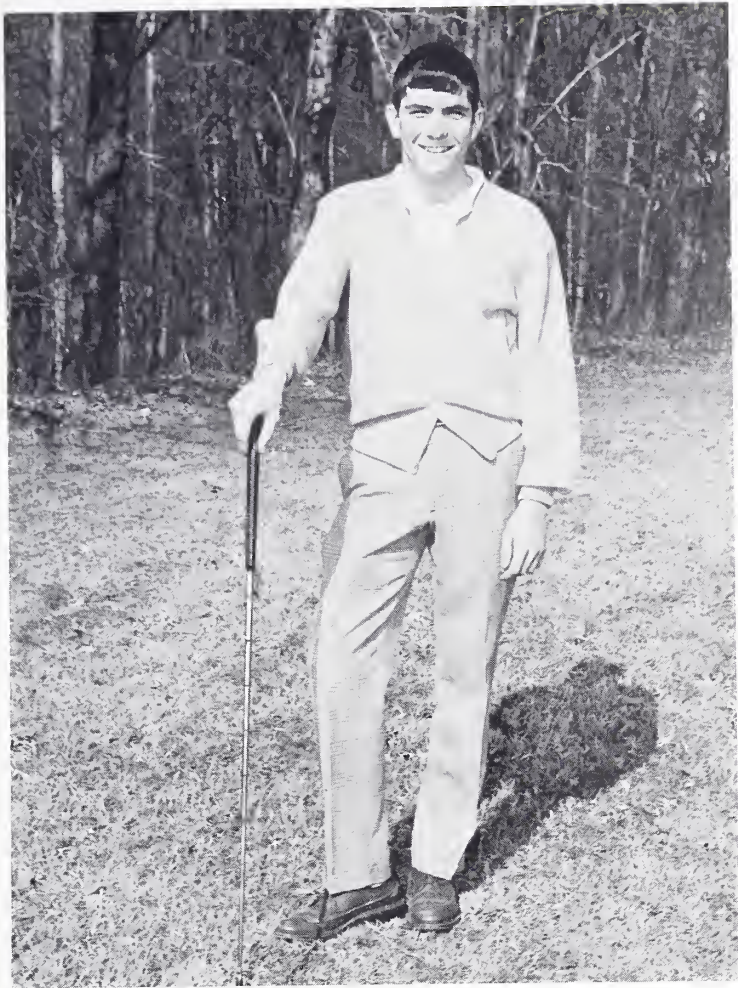

Golf is in its fourth year as an intercollegiate sport at North Greenville, and as a team sport it demands skill, practice, concentration, and steadiness under pressure to win. Our golf team this year is under the guidance of Coach Harvey Tankersley, who is expecting to have a good season as it progresses. We have seven sophomores returning to the Mountie team, and they will probably play in a total of 12 matches plus the conference tournament.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

Intramural sports play a vital part in the daily routine on the North Greenville campus. They provide physical recreation, competition, fun, and excitement for the men in the dormitories as well as for the day students. The intramural of boys' basketball was divided into two seasons, first semester and second semester, under the leadership of Coach Sam Worley. The Shooters, organized by Ben Dorman and coached by Larry Dangerfield, won the basketball intramural trophy with a 9-1 record. Individual competition in tennis, pool, and ping-pong will make up the last part of boys' intramurals.

GIRLS' INTRAMURALS

The girls' part of the intramural program at North Greenville proved to be very active and interesting. Each gym class played as a team and competed against other classes. The girls, therefore, were given an opportunity to use the skills they had learned and developed in gym.

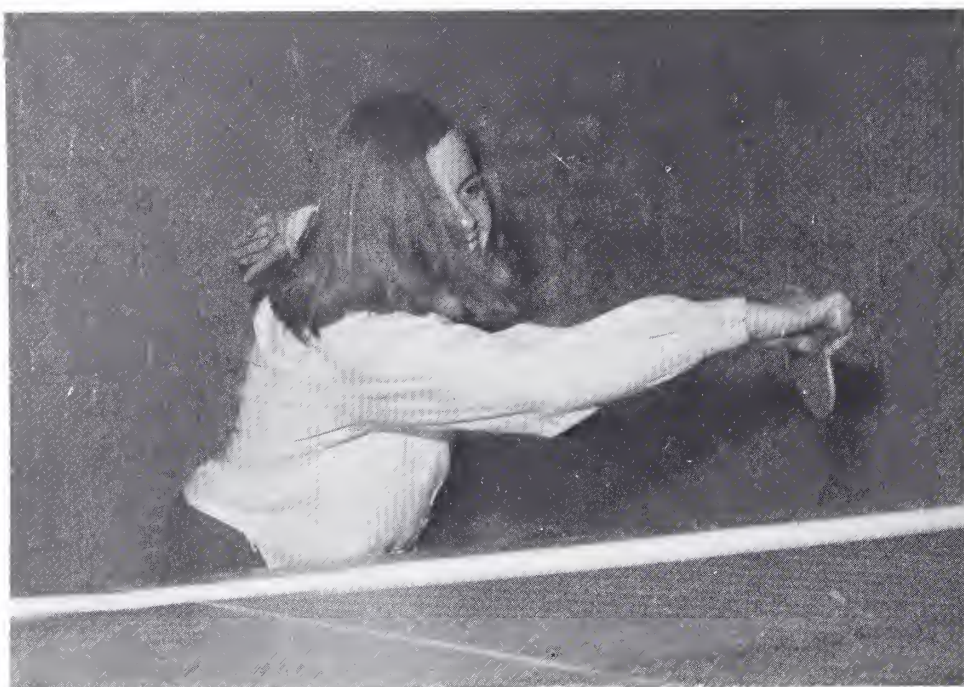

There was a wide field of sports ranging from softball, basketball, tennis, and volleyball to less active sports such as ping-pong and bowling.

Each time a girl participated in an event, her gym class or team received five points, and an additional five points was awarded to the winning team. A record was kept, and at the end of the year the winning team was announced and given due recognition.

Dear Friends,

The advertising section of a yearbook is more than extra pages in the back of the book for students to use for autographs. It is the representation of the cooperation of many people.

First, the cooperation of the business establishments of the neighboring communities has been obtained, and the Aurora staff is proud of their accomplishments in the business world. Second, is the cooperation of the Aurora business staff in making visits to these firms and companies. The staff members spent many hours in securing these advertisements, and I am grateful for their help. Third is the cooperation in financing the Aurora. This area includes the student body of North Greenville and the leaders of all campus organizations. I am also indebted to the clerical staff for their help in keeping records of the finances through the organizations and advertisements.

Many years from now we can look back to the 1968 Aurora and recall the memories we have formed at North Greenville. People from all walks of life will see this yearbook, making it an advertisement in itself. Thank you for your support and for being a part of a successful year at North Greenville.

Sincerely,
SUSAN LOFTIS
BUSINESS MANAGER

Dear Friends,

In the early part of the first semester the yearbook staff examined our college. We began to gather thoughts concerning a theme for the book. There were many suggestions, but we finally decided on "The Aurora Reflects Many Moods."

To all the section editors, the business staff, the typists, the photographers, and the compilers of the directories and the index, I am very grateful for work done faithfully and diligently. Also, our faculty advisor, Mrs. Veda Sprouse, was a great help to the staff because we were forever asking questions and seeking suggestions. We, the Aurora staff, feel indebted to her and to all the other members of the faculty, staff, and administration.

Many others helped in the publishing of our annual, and to them we would also like to leave a word of thanks: Keys Printing Company, our printer who definitely had all the patience in the world with us; Simpson Photo Service for their skill and their promptness in returning our pictures; Rawlins-Allen for the beautiful portraits of the freshmen, sophomores, faculty, staff, and administration; and Mr. Jack Smith and his son, who took time to take the organization pictures.

Almost everyone has been thanked for helping with the publication except one big group — you, the students. Without the student body there would not be a North Greenville Junior College; neither would there be a yearbook. So thank you, students, for our college and for our 1968 Aurora.

Sincerely,
JUDY VICKERY
EDITOR

The AURORA'S moods are finished, but the memories linger.

At the foothills of the mountains
 'Neath the azure sky,
Stands our noble Alma Mater
 As the years go by.

Excelsior is our motto.
Greatness without fail.
Hail to thee, Our Alma Mater,
Hail, North Greenville, Hail!

For our ideals and traditions
 Praises still are rung,
Cherished as in yesterday
 When our school was young.

When in pleasure and in trials
 We depart from thee,
Worthy sons and worthy daughters
 May we prove to be.

North Greenville's seal is designed to represent the purpose for which the school was established. The Bible signifies the Word of God as the foundation of Christian faith and learning. The torch represents progress and enlightenment through education. The olive wreath stands for honor and excellence. The torch and the date, 1892, superimposed on the open Bible denote academic excellence in a Christian environment.
